Framing Islam: "Violent Extremism" and the Rise of Securofeminism

Lila Abu-Lughod

The Joseph L. Buttenwieser Professor of Social Science
Columbia University

Tuesday
October 3, 2017
5:30pm
Taylor Hall 203

Lila Abu-Lughod will examine how gender experts and women's rights advocates recently have been included in the global security enterprise called CVE (Countering Violent Extremism). Abu-Lughod will discuss how this new group of "securofeminists" colludes in a dangerous re-framing of conflict that often erases history, gender, and context.

Sponsored by The Department of Religion
Co-Sponsored by Anthropology, Women's Studies, and Africana Studies